A Reflection on Jesus' Passion by the Rev. Thomas Faulkner

The Fourteen Stations Of The Cross Project was commissioned by the national Episcopal Church for its 2003 General Convention. Rev. Faulkner, an Episcopal priest and sculptor, spent eight months as the Red Cross Officer in charge of the 60 chaplains ministering at the temporary morgue at Ground Zero following the 9/11 attacks on the World Trade Center. He and the chaplains blessed all human remains removed from the site and offered prayer and counseling for workers. Walking the Way of the Cross was inspired by that ministry. The conceptual art exhibition will be on view at Trinity from Ash Wednesday, Feb. 22 through Good Friday, April 6. The Rev. Faulkner will lead guided station walks Feb. 22-25. Rev. Faulkner is the vicar at Christ Church in Sparkill, N.Y.
