After eight years of shared ministry at St. Andrew’s (Greensboro, North Carolina), we gathered in the parish hall after church for a final farewell on my last Sunday. Of the many wonderful memories from that day, I remember most vividly looking around the room and noticing just who exactly was there: many who had been there for generations, a good handful of folks who had been there for ten or fifteen years, but also a surprising number of people who had arrived in my time as rector. There they all were, together: the people of St. Andrew’s. Someone walking in the door for the first time that day would have been hard-pressed to say who was a veteran and who was a relative newcomer. It was a heartwarming thing to see, but it wasn’t a reflection of my time as a rector so much as the generous spirit of that place, an openness to the ways that God shapes a church community.

When we listen carefully to the movement of the Holy Spirit, we see that God gives us many gifts for ministry – including, oftentimes, the arrival of the right people at just the right time. One of the couples I saw in the crowd had arrived just a few months after I did, and had quickly become indispensable leaders within the church. Indeed, one of them offered to serve as senior warden after I announced my call to Trinity.

Will the same thing happen at Trinity Cathedral? Clearly, it already has. In recent years, a great many people have connected to Trinity and are now stepping into leadership; even some who came to Trinity during the interim have connected to ministries within the church.

What will Trinity Church look like in 10 or 15 years? We cannot know, of course, but my hope is that it will be a rich tapestry of the folks who are here today and all those who will choose to connect in years to come. When we are faithful and intentional, we can better see that God tends to send us what we need…and who we need…to carry out the ministry to which we are called.

- The Very Rev. Bernard Owens

SUNDAYS AT 10:10 A.M.

March 3
History and Timeline of the 1979 ‘Book of Common Prayer’
Dean Owens will explore the cultural, liturgical and scholarly currents in the mid-century that led the Episcopal Church to revise the Prayer Book into the form we currently use today.

March 10
How the 1979 BCP Was Revised
How exactly does one revise or create a prayer book? That question might be a little different with each revision, but Dean Owens will explore both the process used in the creation of the current book, and also consider the ancient and modern sources for the prayers we pray each day, and each Sunday.

March 17
Principals for Making Liturgical Decisions
Even with a Prayer Book, liturgical leaders make a great many liturgical decisions to shape the worship services used in each church. How might we make those decisions in ways that are faithful to the practices of the wider church, allow the liturgy to teach the elements of our faith, and support our liturgy as a ministry of the whole people of God? Dean Owens will offer some guiding principles for crafting the liturgies that shape our worship life.

Installation of The Very Rev. Bernard Owens, IV as 12th Dean of Trinity Cathedral
4 p.m. Sunday, March 24
Festal Evensong

Lent is the six-week period that begins on Ash Wednesday and ends the day before Easter Sunday. The season of Lent is seen as a time of solemn observance and preparation for the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Sacred Space - Shrove Tuesday
Tuesday, March 5, 6 p.m.

From 6 to 7 p.m., we will join the Mardi Gras/Shrove Tuesday celebration, and from 7 to 8:30 p.m., we will have the Sacred Space gathering. Since March 6 is Ash Wednesday, we will talk about Lent - how we’ve observed it in the past and how we might want to observe it this year. Is there a particular Lenten discipline you wish to focus on this year? In the spirit of Shrove Tuesday, feel free to bring a treat, some beads or something else festive to share. Questions? Please contact Charlotte Nichols at cdn216@gmail.com.

Ash Wednesday Services
March 6 at 7:30 a.m., 12 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Eucharist will be celebrated with the imposition of ashes at all services. The 6 p.m. service will include music sung by the Cathedral Choir. Following the 6 p.m. service, a community soup and salad supper ($6 suggested donation) will be served; all are welcome.

Lent Madness Is Coming!

What is Lent Madness? It’s a fun, engaging way for everyone to learn about the men and women highlighted in the Church’s Calendar of Saints during the season of Lent, which begins this year on March 6. Here’s the format: 32 “saints” are placed into a single elimination tournament bracket. Biographical information about each saint is shared. People vote for their favorite saints on the Lent Madness website, or by using Facebook or Twitter. Things get more interesting in the later rounds - we find out a little more about the semifinal and final contenders - and ultimately, one saint earns the coveted Golden Halo.

Interested? Stop by the Lent Madness table in the Promenade on Sundays, March 3 or 10. Contact Sally Lambert at 216-371-2168 or salambert25@gmail.com, or visit lentmadness.org.

Creating the 1979 ‘Book of Common Prayer’

The 1979 Book of Common Prayer was arguably the most dramatic revision of our liturgical texts and practices since the Episcopal Church was established in 1789. Unlike the previous revisions that largely updated what came before, the ’79 prayer book was written with an eye to the ecumenical movement of the 20th century, advances in liturgical scholarship, and mid-century cultural changes that suggested the church would likely drift from the center of American society in the years to come.

The Episcopal Church is having lively conversations about the Prayer Book, conversations that range from possible revision to exploring more deeply the resources we currently have. One framing question might be: Have we outgrown the 1979 Prayer Book, or have we yet to grow into it? (Spoiler alert: there’s no one answer).

It can help to look at the creation of the 1979 BCP in the cultural and scholarly context in which it was revised. To frame these important questions, Dean Owens will offer a three-week series of Forums on the History and Creation of the 1979 Book of Common Prayer, and will offer follow-up topics on the class in months to come. See the first page of this issue of Cathedral Connections for more details.
Messy Church

Sunday, March 31, during the 9 a.m. service

Messy Church is an entirely different worship experience. Conversation, music and laughter flows freely in the Nave. Teenagers intently observe knitting needles tick-tick-tick as a new prayer shawl is being formed. A toddler and an empty-nester giggle, while making the same craft, side-by-side.

The theme for the lesson, activity, demonstration and crafts will focus on The Beatitudes. If you need a refresher, a beatitude is an expression of supreme blessedness. “The Beatitudes” is the title often used to describe eight blessings Jesus listed when he gave his Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:3-11). We’ll interact with these blessings through storytelling, movement, breaking of bread, and making crafts.

Trinity has noticeably increased its welcome.

As part of the Life Safety & Accessibility Project, nine new railings were installed on the steps of Trinity Cathedral and our East 22nd Street walkway. Historical Arts and Casting, Inc., an award-winning architectural and ornamental metalworking and fabrication firm from Utah, crafted and installed the railings during one of the coldest weeks of winter in January. The Trinity stairs better reflect our hospitality into our sacred space and commitment to safety and accessibility.

Thank you to the generous contributions of our congregation and several institutional funders whose support made this project possible. Learn more about Historical Arts at historicalarts.com.

The railings project was one of multiple Life Safety improvements funded by Trinity’s 2016-2018 capital campaign. The purpose of the campaign was to safely serve all who enter, convene and worship at Trinity Cathedral and expand the diverse use of our public space.

Life Safety improvements:

1) Installing 14,000 square feet of new sprinkler coverage in basement
2) Preventing smoke infiltration from the basement to the Cathedral
3) Confirming placement of fire extinguishers
4) Updating fire alarm system
5) Providing emergency lighting and exit signage
6) Panic hardware at egress doors
7) Handrails at egress stairs
8) Installing push assist door operators at piazza entryway and main bathrooms

Thanks to these improvements, the Cathedral’s maximum occupancy was increased to 900 persons, and the small venue to 749 persons.

Big Read Exhibition

In a pictorial celebration of Claudia Rankine's book, Citizen: An American Lyric, artwork by Brenda Tucker and Katrice Headd is on display through March 12 in the Promenade Gallery.

Artist Brenda Tucker recently visited the Promenade Gallery to view the exhibition. A Cooper School of Art graduate, painting was her first love, followed by sewing. She was a costumer at Karamu House and Hawken Upper School during the 1980s. Brenda later received a degree in studio art from Ursuline College.

“Above all, I love color! Most of my work is figurative, and I focus on black people in ordinary or religious settings because the images we often see are European. Hopefully, it will cause the observer to experience joy and relaxation.” - Brenda Tucker

NEA Big Read is a program of the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) designed to broaden our understanding of our world, our communities, and ourselves through the joy of sharing a good book. Music and Art at Trinity has partnered with the Center for Arts-Inspired Learning, one of the nonprofit organizations that received a grant to host an NEA Big Read project. The NEA presents NEA Big Read in partnership with Arts Midwest. Learn more at BigReadCLE.com.
